COMPREHENSION II

From the world of magic, hypnosis is moving into the world of medicine, from hocus-pocus performed by men in black capes, to hypnotherapy practised by doctors in white coats. The purpose is to help people stop smoking, lose weight, overcome phobias, and control pain in a variety of medical situations, from childbirth to cancer. Research laboratories are currently checking out the success rate of therapy under hypnosis, while medical journals stand by to publish the results. And the important thing is, nobody is laughing.

In the 1840's, a British doctor in Calcutta created a controversy by performing over 1000 operations with hypnosis as the only anaesthesia. During the World Wars, German and British doctors used hypnosis to treat war neuroses.

45. Treating war neurosis means
 - a. curing madness.
 - b. curing brain fever.
 - c. dealing with war problems.
 - d. curing war anxiety.

COMPREHENSION III

"The beauty of the Japanese landscape is that it conveys philosophical messages through each feature. The use of curving pathways rather than straight lines, for instance. This feature springs from the belief that only evil travels in straight lines, good forces tend to wander. Then, odd numbers of plants or trees are used in these gardens because these numbers are considered auspicious. Even the plants used are symbolic. For example, the cyprus represents longevity and the bamboo symbolises abundance," says Sadhana Roy Choudhary.

In Japan, nature is said to be so closely intertwined with human life that parents actually plant a sapling in their garden when a child is born in the family, letting the growth of the child coincide with the growth of the plant.

46. They prefer curving pathways because
 - a. they are inauspicious.
 - b. they can walk easily.
 - c. they stumble over straight ones.
 - d. good spirits walk on them.
47. Abundance means
 - a. long life.
 - b. happiness.
 - c. plenty.
 - d. permanent.
48. The Japanese parents plant a sapling at the time of birth of a child because
 - a. it is auspicious to plant a sapling.
 - b. it is closely associated with the growth of the child.
 - c. it gives longevity to the child.
 - d. it gives happiness to the child.
49. According to the passage the Japanese are
 - a. superstitious.
 - b. philosophical.
 - c. lovers of nature.
 - d. lovers of numerology.
50. The Japanese pathways tend to be
 - a. symbolic.
 - b. beautiful.
 - c. curved.
 - d. straight.

COMPREHENSION IV

If we look back on the great political revolutions and the great technological revolutions (both of which are clues to the range of mankind's capacities and possibilities), we see a striking contrast. Political revolutions, generally speaking, have revealed man's organised purposefulness, his social conscience, his sense of justice, the aggressive and assertive side of his nature. Technological change, invention and innovation have tended, rather, to reveal his play instinct, his desire and his ability to go where he has never gone, to do what he has never done. The one shows his willingness to sacrifice in order to fulfil his plans and the other his willingness to sacrifice in order to pursue his quest. Many of the peculiar successes and special problems of our time come from our efforts to assimilate these two kinds of activities. We have tried to make government more experimental and to make technological change more purposive, more focussed, more planned than ever before.

51. According to the author our peculiar successes and special problems are a result of
 - a. our ability to experiment.
 - b. man's organized purposefulness.
 - c. our efforts to assimilate political and technological activities.
 - d. desire to fulfil our plans.
52. Man's assertive and aggressive side of his nature is expressed in
 - a. technological revolutions.
 - b. political revolutions.
 - c. his social conscience.
 - d. his play instinct.
53. Technological revolutions reveal man's
 - a. aggressive side of his nature.
 - b. assertive side of his nature.
 - c. play instinct.
 - d. psychological maturity.
54. Man's willingness to sacrifice to fulfil his plans are attributed to
 - a. his organized purposefulness.
 - b. his kind nature.
 - c. his sense of responsibility.
 - d. his ability to go where he has never gone.
55. A striking contrast is established in the passage between
 - a. mankind's capacities and possibilities.
 - b. man's maturity and irresponsibility.

- c. political and technological revolutions achieved by man.

COMPREHENSION V

Two hundred years after Malthus predicted that population growth would overtake food production by a margin of 256 to 9, the simple fact is that food production had always been ahead of the population growth. Malthus' doomsday prediction simply did not come true due to two major reasons: first, population did not grow geometrically and birth rates in all Western countries fell during the 20th Century, resulting in very slow population growth. Over the past quarter century, birth rates have been falling in the developing countries too. Second, modern agricultural practices and better irrigation have resulted in tremendous growth in food production in almost all parts of the globe, with the notable exception of sub-Saharan Africa. Therefore, at the global level, the Malthusian doomsday never befell on us.

India's population grew by about two and a half times in the past 45 years -from 361 million in 1951 to an estimated 916 million in 1995. But during the same period, India's food-grain production grew by nearly four times - from 51 million tonnes in 1951 to 191 million tonnes in 1995. As a result, the per capita food grain availability in India has gone up considerably since the independence. That is, the Malthusian prediction has not come true even in India.

56. In the developing countries, the birth rate is

a. increasing.	b. doubling.

c. three times.	d. two times.
58. The food production had always been _____ of population growth.

a. slow	b. ahead
c. adequate	d. stagnant
59. Malthus doomsday prediction did not come true due to two major reasons. They are

- a. rapid growth in population and Industrial development.
- b. very slow growth in population and modern agricultural practices and better irrigation.
- c. increase in percapita income and economic progress.
- d. better facilities in Health and Hygiene.

60. In the past forty five years, India's population has grown about
- a. three and a half times.
 - b. one and a half times.
 - c. five times.
